Mid-MO RPC Executive Board Meeting Scheduled for Life Science Business Incubator at Monsanto Place

The Board of Directors of the Mid-Missouri Regional Planning Commission will hold their next scheduled meeting on April 22, at the Life Science Business Incubator at Monsanto Place on the University of Missouri campus. The meeting will begin at 5pm, and include a tour of the facilities by the board members with Jake Halliday, PhD, President & CEO of the incubator technology initiative. The business incubator initiative began in 2004, to establish a technology business incubator to support economic development in mid-Missouri. The facility, which opened in 2009, leases wet lab and engineering space to allow for business technology opportunities. The incubator allows for activities that may stimulate entrepreneurship technology, allow for the planning, financing and accomplishing research and product development, developing the business plan and securing startup funding and growth capital, and/or for incubating the ventures that result (mentoring and physically accommodating startup firms). Funding for the facility included funds through the Department of Commerce - Economic Development Administration which recognizes the Mid-Missouri Regional Planning Commission as an economic development district and planning partner.

Mid-MO Unemployment Rates Significantly Less Than State, Fed

Missouri employment decreased again in February, while the state's unemployment rate increased by two-tenths of a point (8.1 percent in January to 8.3 percent in February) according to data released by the Missouri Department of Economic Development (DED). The month's changes reflect continuing deterioration in the national economy and labor markets. According to Missouri Economic Research and Information Center (MERIC) approximately 2,751,100 Missourians were estimated to have been jobless during the month of February.

The Mid-Missouri Regional Planning Commission (Mid-MO RPC) area included Boone, Callaway, Cole, Cooper, Howard and Moniteau counties. According to data calculated from MERIC's county data, in February the six county area average unemployment rate was 7.6%, which is significantly less than current Federal or State unemployment rates.

Freedom's Frontier Executive Director to Speak on Heritage Tourism

On May 20, 2009, the Mid-Mo RPC Economic Advisory Committee will host the 2nd annual Economic Development Seminar at Turner Hall in Boonville, Missouri. This year's seminar will focus on Heritage Tourism and its potential impact in the Mid-Missouri region. One guest speaker for this event will be Peter Jorgenson, a consultant for the Silos and Smokestacks National Heritage Area located in Iowa and Mary Jorgenson. Silos and Smokestacks NHA's historic focus is on agriculture and the industries that emerged from agricultural production in Iowa. Mr. Jorgenson will be discussing how Silos and Smokestacks began and how the National Park Service became involved in the project. In addition, he will discuss an economic study that was completed on the financial effectiveness of the Silos and Smokestacks initiative.

In addition to Mr. Jorgenson, Judy Billings, Executive Director for the Freedom's Frontier National Heritage Area, will discuss the development of the Freedom's Frontier NHA. Freedom's Frontier NHA includes twelve Missouri counties on the west side of the state. Freedom's Frontier's historical focus includes the events that led up to and the aftermath of "Order Number 11". Order Number 11 was enacted in 1863 to remove the settlers in western Missouri from the land. Prior to Order Number 11 there were skirmishes between Union and Confederate forces as well as conflicts arising from guerilla, anti-union forces. In an effort to permanently remove settlers, homes, barns, and towns were burned to the ground to prevent residents from returning. Eastern Kansas and western Missouri share a colorful and very historic past that goes beyond Order Number 11 and the boarder wars and weaves a historic tapestry of cultures, traditions, hardships, and achievements.

A reception will be held at the Missouri Life Building from 5 to 6 p.m., the seminar will begin at 6:15 at Turner Hall in Boonville, Missouri. For registration information contact Colleen Vollman or Lee Ann Jestis by email mmrpc@mmrpc.org or at (573) 657-9779. Also see our ad in the April 09 Issue of "Missouri Life" magazine, page 25.

Federal Auditors Visit SEMA and Area F RHSOC

Federal auditors visited SEMA and grant recipients throughout the state of Missouri as they traveled around the state, March 9th -18th 2009. On March 16th Area F Regional Homeland Security Oversight Committee (RHSOC) and the Mid-Missouri Regional Planning Commission (Mid-MO RPC) which is the procurement agent for Area F -RHSOC participated in the Federal audit. equipment items that were purchased through the fiscal year 2006 (FY06) grant cycle; (1) radio caches, (2) mass care trailer, (3) satellite phone and, (4) image of the fixed satellite equipment. The MidMO RPC also present to the auditor Area F -FY06 closeout report and images of the equipment located in all thirteen Area F counties.

The audit for Area F-RHSOC started at Cole county fire station number two and

New Public Safety Director Chairs Homeland Security Advisory Council

The Missouri Governor's Advisory Council on Homeland Security sounded a theme of "one state, one strategy" when it met March 4 for its bi-monthly meeting. New Department of Public Safety Director John M. Britt, who chaired the meeting for the first time, said "coordination, cooperation and communication are vital to making all Homeland Security efforts effective." The state of Missouri has taken a much different approach than most other state, in determining the needs of emergency and disaster response. The state has designated the one hundred fifteen counties, including St. Louis, into 9 Regional Homeland Security Oversight Committees (RHSOC). The RHSOC's are made of various emergency response disciplines and public partners, who make recommendations through the RPC's to the State Emergency Management Agency (SEMA) for Homeland Security grant request. The effort to include various disciplines that respond to disasters and emergency situations has proven an effective process in decision making.

MoDNR Reviews Potential Stimulus Funding Opportunities

Scott Totten, Director, and Curt Gateley, Unit Chief, with the Missouri Department of Natural Resources reviewed MoDNR programs that will be supplemented with additional American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (stimulus) funds at the March 25, Mid-MO RPC meeting in Ashland. Totten emphasized that funds were being allocated to the drinking water revolving loan fund, clean water revolving loan fund, and the energy program. The energy program is providing funding assistance to address energy efficiencies in public buildings.

Totten also reviewed the State's grant programs targeted for smaller communities. The State Forty Percent Grant program is directed to unsewered districts and communities with populations under 1,000. These grants allow new systems to get started. The second grant program-State Rural Sewer Grants fund up to 50% of a project and are directed to projects to help communities add sewer connections, or to assist publicly owned wastewater treatment facilities upgrade to meet more stringent operating permit requirements.
